Overview

The Reed College Community Training Guide is to guide and track the training of a Community Safety Officer Trainee (CSOT). The goal is for a CSOT to become a well-trained, prepared Community Safety Officer (CSO).

The CSOT will learn to perform the duties and responsibilities of a CSO. The CSOT will be learn through one-on-one training with the Community Safety Manger (CSM), with help from designated CSOs, daily observation reports (DORs), written tests, and scenarios.

Phase 1, Administrative, CSOT will complete administrative tasks, on the New Employee Checklist, and office training, guided by the CSM.

Phase 2, Crawl > Walk > Run Training, CSOT will learn the basic fundamentals of what is expected of a CSO. The CSM will rely on discussion, participation, DORs, and scenario performance to evaluate the CSOT.

CSOT should progress from being shown and talked through (crawl)> walking through with guidance (walk)> performing duties and tasks with minimal help or guidance (run).

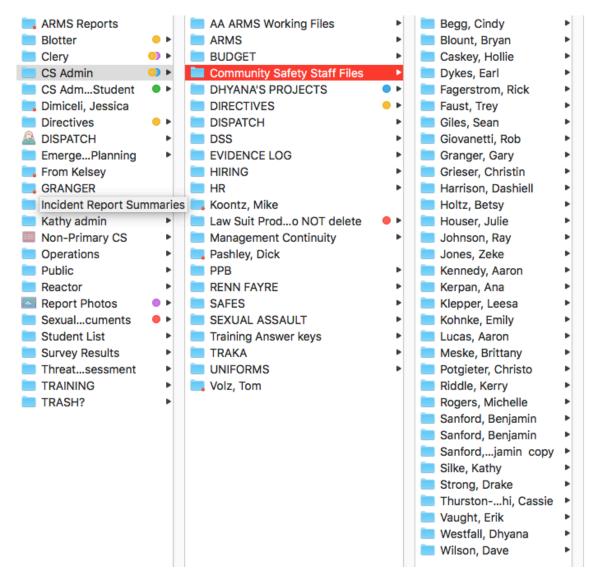

Phase 3, Shift Training, CSOT will work and train on all shifts (day, swing, and grave) with designated CSOs. On each shift the CSOT will demonstrate that the CSOT has grasped the nuances of the shift. The CSOT will demonstrate their understanding of the EMS and shift specific regular tasks and duties. The CSM will rely heavily on the DORs filled out by the designated CSOs and daily debriefs with the CSOT to evaluate the CSOT.

Phase 4, Dispatch Training, CSOT will train with the day shift Dispatcher. The CSM will rely on the DORs filled out by the Dispatcher, the Dispatch documents, checklists, procedures, and daily debriefs with the CSOT to evaluate the CSOT.

Phase 5, Final Scenario and Director Walk, CSOT will get a final scenario, evaluated as the previous scenarios. CSOT will patrol being observed by the Community Safety Director.

Note regarding storage of training documentation: All documentation pertaining to CSOT performance, certification, evaluation, etc. will be scanned and stored on the Homeserver (see below).

Phase 1 Administrative

The New Employee Checklist is to be completed during Phase 1. The list template is in the CS homeserver in the training folder, see image below, it may be adapted to each unique CSO with respect to the circumstance and items issued. Print, complete, and scan the New Employee Checklist, put it into the staff members Community Safety Staff File (see above).

Phase 2 Crawl

- CSOT in the proper procedure for beginning and ending a shift. This includes keys and radio checkout, reviewing the EMS and unlock/lockup schedule and checking the shift summary from the previous shift.
- CSOT will learn how to plan their activities for the shift based on the EMS, unlock/lockup schedule and current patrol priorities.
- CSOT will learn proper use of department radios.
- CSOT will be introduced to campus geography. This includes the campus boundaries, roadways, lots and buildings, including off-campus properties such as faculty houses.
- CSOT will learn all of the building names, locations and uses.
- CSOT will learn which keys unlock each building or areas of buildings. Also included in building introductions will be the locations of the fire alarm panels as well as the arming and disarming of security alarms.
- CSOT in proper procedure for checking the reactor.
- CSOT will need to go through the reactor certification process with the reactor staff.
- CSOT will learn proper foot patrol procedures, both interior and exterior building checks. CSOT will learn to check that doors properly secure on a free swing.
- CSOT will learn contacts with students, faculty and staff, and non-community members.
- CSOT will learn proper vehicle patrol procedures. This includes vehicle inspections, patrolling the lots, how to spot suspicious activities, and documenting vehicle damage.
- CSOT will learn how to recognize and report maintenance and safety issues.
- CSOT will learn to advise Dispatch via radio of a needed work order.
- CSOT will learn fire alarm panel locations, and how to properly respond to an alarm.
- CSOT will demonstrate, the proper response to alarm calls. This includes locating the alarm panel, verifying the location and status, and resetting the alarm.
- CSOT will take the written test on the major areas that were covered during that week's training. This test will include some Department Directives, such as Use of Force and Fire Response.
- By the end of the first week of training, the CSOT should be comfortable in finding locations on campus, be able to communicate on the radio (including the use of the phonetic alphabet), perform scheduled unlocks and appropriately respond to alarms.
- Sign off on the appropriate lines of the sign off list

Phase 2 Walk

During the phase 2 walk training, the CSOT will begin to be expected to handle calls for service.

- CSOT should be familiar with some of the basic procedures, such as unlocks and escorts.
- CSOT will be expected to handle basic calls for service with minimal guidance from the CSM. The more involved calls, such as medical emergencies, will take additional instruction.
- The CSM should talk the CSOT through scenarios prior to receiving any such calls during free time.
- CSOT will be initiating contact in many situations, but the CSM will still maintain control of the situation, and be doing any investigation and documentation.
- The CSM will instruct, and the CSOT will demonstrate, the correct procedure for performing an unlock (call for service). This will include correctly finding the location, knowing which key to use, identifying the person by Reed ID card and engaging the person in a polite, friendly and professional manner.
- The CSM will instruct, and the CSOT will demonstrate, the correct procedure for an escort, including advising Dispatch of starting and ending mileage.
- The CSM will instruct, and the CSOT will demonstrate, the correct procedure for performing a jump start, including having the motorist sign the waiver.
- The CSM will instruct, and the CSOT will demonstrate, how to safely contact a non-community member. This may be a friendly visitor asking directions, a suspicious person who does not belong on campus, or a dog walker who is not complying with the leash policy.
- For cold crime reports, the CSOT should be able to respond promptly and make contact, however, the CSM will still be doing the actual investigation at this stage of the training. For emergent situations, the CSOT should be learning all of the necessary steps and procedures, with the CSM being responsible for timely response and action. The CSM should allow the CSOT to handle the appropriate parts of the situation that the CSM believes the CSOT is capable of handling, without endangering anyone or jeopardizing an investigation.
- The CSM will instruct and provide scenarios on responding to medical emergencies, including how and when to use the Yellow and Green cards, explaining campus resources such as on-call personnel, the HCC, Community Care line, and After Hours Crisis line. The CSM will also explain how to properly guide in and request emergency services.
- In all cases where appropriate, the CSOT should be able to recognize which situations require notification to the Manager On-Call (MOC). The CSOT should be the one making the MOC notifications when appropriate.
- Throughout the second week of training, the CSM should be guiding the CSOT in verbal communication skills. Emphasis should be placed on professionalism, courtesy, appropriate response and listening skills.
- The CSM will instruct the CSOT in the proper methods of documenting activities. The CSOT will learn how to correctly complete and submit parking citations. The CSM will instruct the CSOT in the ARMS report system. The CSOT will need to understand and demonstrate the ability to create and complete a report in the ARMS system. This includes all sections on the face page, the basic information, description, synopsis and involved parties. The CSOT will need to know how to attach photographs and complete the property/evidence fields. In the narrative field, the CSM will instruct the CSOT the proper format for narratives, including date, time, name and position of author, and all necessary details. The CSM will instruct the CSOT in writing complete, concise narratives. An example report narrative can be found on page 32 of this manual. The CSM will instruct the CSOT in how to email a report narrative to the MOC and management team. The CSOT needs to be familiar with the MOC notification directive in order to know which narratives to forward.
- By the end of the second week of training, the CSOT should be comfortable in responding to most calls for service, be able to verbally communicate with community members in all situations, and show the ability to remain calm in stressful situations. The CSM will have the CSOT demonstrate these abilities on or before the last day of the week.
- Sign off on the appropriate lines of the sign off list

Phase 2 Run

During the third week of training, the CSOT will be responsible for demonstrating the ability to take enforcement action, conduct investigations and document all activity. To do this, the CSOT will need to be familiar with all of the directives on AOD violations, Computer Theft Reporting, and college policies.

Building on what has been learned and observed during the previous two phases, the CSOT, under the guidance of the CSM, will begin to take enforcement actions on observed and reported violations. The CSOT will have to be familiar with the department directives and college policies. The CSOT must demonstrate the proper way to contact students and others during enforcement actions. Demeaning or condescending statements or actions will not be tolerated. The CSM must instruct and stress to the CSOT that the CSO's function in enforcement actions is to gather information and document what has occurred.

In conducting investigations, the CSOT must demonstrate the ability to progress in a logical manner to discover all relevant information. The CSOT must be able to conduct interviews with victims and witnesses. The CSOT must elicit the necessary information, including who, what, when, where, why and how. The CSOT must be able to examine a scene and recognize potential evidence. The CSOT must be able to take scene photographs. The CSOT must be able to seize evidence, properly preserve it, and properly enter it into the evidence room. It is the responsibility of the CSM to instruct and demonstrate these procedures to the CSOT. If no situations arise during the week, it is the CSMs responsibility to simulate such a situation so that the CSOT can demonstrate the proper procedures.

As in the previous two weeks, the CSM should be guiding and observing the CSOT's communication skills. The CSM should instruct the CSOT in proper ways to deal with challenges and questioning by students. Discussion and interactions with students should be encouraged.

By the end of the week, the CSOT should feel comfortable in most areas of the job and be eager to begin working more independently.

Sign off on the appropriate lines of the sign off list

Phase 3 Shift Training

CSOT will be able to demonstrate the ability to independently perform all of the functions of a CSO, under the guidance of a designated CSO.

During this phase, the designated CSO is encouraged to review all of the CSO functions with the CSOT to ensure the CSOT feels confident in the ability to perform these functions. The CSOT should discuss with the designated CSO and practice any areas that the CSOT feels they need review or improvement.

CSOT should be functioning as if s/he is independent, with the designated CSO acting as an observer to ensure that the CSOT is capable of performing all of the job functions. The designated CSO should only step in and take control if something is observed which is potentially dangerous, a violation of law or policy, a liability issue or could cause further problems. The designated CSO will observe the CSOT to ensure that the CSOT demonstrates the ability to communicate in a proper manner with everyone they encounter in all types of situations.

Phase 4 Dispatch Training

CSOT will train with the day shift Dispatcher. The CSM will rely on the DORs filled out by the Dispatcher, the Dispatch documents, checklists, procedures, and daily debriefs with the CSOT to evaluate the CSOT.

Phase 5 Final Scenario and Director Walk

CSOT will get a final scenario, evaluated as the previous scenarios. CSOT will patrol being shadowed by the Director of Community Safety. During this patrol, the CSOT will demonstrate the ability to communicate in a proper manner in all types of situations and to effectively perform all job functions. The Director will complete a FINAL DOR with the CSOT meeting all performance requirements.

Completed Training Sign-Off List The Field Training Officer and Community Safety Officer Trainee will each initial and date the appropriate line to indicate the completion, understanding, or proper demonstration of each training task and skill. The skill or task shall only be signed off once the signee is confident that the Trainee can perform the listed task or skill independently and properly in the field.

Rating Instructions: Rate the demonstrated knowledge and observed performance according to the scale provided below. If nothing was observed for a given category, indicate that with a mark under the column "N.O.". Indicate under the "N.R.T." column if the CSOT is not responding to remedial training in a given category. On page 2 indicate the most satisfactory areas, and the areas that need focused improvement for the day. All N.R.T. ratings must have a narrative on page 2 under areas of improvement.

Rating Scale:

A 1 is stating that the trainee does not know the material or is performing in a way that is not to our expectations. A 2 states that the trainee is making progress and is capable of doing some work independently. A 3 states that the trainee is performing well and can do the task with minimal to no assistance from their CSM.

CSOT Scenario Evaluation Sheet
CSOT	Observer
Date

Evaluation scenarios will begin by the CSOT being dispatched to a call. The CSOT will need to display or convey the following listed criteria to pass the scenario. The scenario will end when the CSOT ends the scenario and feels they have covered everything they needed to do and/ or convey.

The following categorizes will be evaluated:

Communication:

- □ The CSOT uses a proper tone for the situation with all individuals
 - Greets individual and identifies self
 - Is soft and friendly in approach, only becoming authoritative as needed
- The CSOT is calm and collected in their speech and process
 - The CSO shows confidence in what they are communicating
 - The CSO shows ability to multitask by both addressing the individual and coordinating radio traffic and needs with staff

- □ The CSOT engages in adequate conversation with all parties to collect needed information
 - The CSOT consistently engages the individual for information
 - The CSOT's focus is on the individual(s) present
- The CSOT responds appropriately to challenges from the student, or others
 - The CSOT explains why they need information and cooperation from student(s)
- □ The CSOT does not guarantee medical amnesty to student, or others

Notes:_____

Identification:

- D The CSOT is able to identify the individual being contacted by both first and last name
- □ The CSOT can explain if they did not get all of the adequate information, how they would be able to, such as running a first name through dispatch, or asking the reporting party

Notes:

Substances Consumed:

- □ The CSOT asks what substances (illegal or otherwise) the student has taken including:
 - o Alcohol
 - Illegal drugs
 - Prescription medication

□ The CSOT asks when the substance was first taken, how much was taken, and when they last took the substance

Notes:

Medical Response:

- The CSOT is able to identify the situation as a medical concern/emergency
- □ The CSOT appropriately responds to the students medical emergency, including taking action to prevent the student from hurting themselves, such as preventing them from falling over
- The CSOT continues engagement with the student during unconsciousness as appropriate
- □ The CSOT references their Yellow Card/ Green Card
- □ The CSOT informs dispatch to call 911
- □ The CSOT informs dispatch where EMS should be directed
- □ The CSOT directs fellow CSOs to guide in EMS
- A "Return to Campus Card" is provided for the student in transport
- The hospital the student is going to is determined
- The names of the responding EMS personnel are gathered

Notes:

Notifications:

- The CSOT asks that the On-Call RD be contacted when 911 is called
 If CSOT notifies RD after the fact
- □ The CSOT (in the absence of the RD) asks the student if they would like their emergency contact to be called

- □ The CSOT notifies the CSMOC
- □ The CSOT emails the narrative to the CSMOC and management group

Notes:_____

Evidence:

- □ The CSOT identifies and confiscates any evidence
- □ The CSOT appropriately photographs, tags, and logs evidence into evidence and cites which locker was used

Notes:

Documentation:

- The CSOT takes appropriate written notes during the scenario
 - CSOT property documents names, substances, amounts used, etc.
- □ The CSOT's report is detailed and documents all needed information and does so in a manner consistent with reporting expectations
 - Abbreviations are not used inappropriately
 - All involved parties are listed in report with correct names
 - Yellow Card/Green Card are cited
 - Documented notifications

Notes:

Phonetic Alphabet:

CSOs and Dispatchers need to be proficient in the use of the phonetic alphabet. The practice of using the phonetic alphabet helps to prevent confusion between similar sounding letters, such as "m" and "n", and to clarify communications that may be garbled during transmission. Below are two common alphabets, but it is also important to note that any spoken word substituting a letter can be used and still assists in radio transitions being clearer.

A good example of using the phonetic alphabet would be when spelling out a name or license plate. Below are a couple of examples

Name: John Doe: "First of: John, Ocean, Henry, Nora Last of: David, Ocean, Edward" License Plate: DBV667: "David, Baker, Victor, 667"

EMERGENCY BLUE LIGHT PHONES

NARRATIVE EXAMPLE:

On (DATE), I, (NAME), was working as a Community Safety Officer (CSO) for Reed College.

At approximately (TIME), I was dispatched to the Grey Campus Center (GCC) on the report of an intoxicated student in the lower restroom. When I arrived to the GCC lower restroom I found a student on the floor and vomiting into the toilet. I asked them what was going on and they informed me that they were just "very intoxicated". I then asked for their Reed ID and the student was then identified to me as (NAME) (REED ID#).

I asked Mr. Doe how much he had drank and he stated he drank a bottle of wine, a few shots of tequila, and 3 beers. I asked when his last drink was and he stated it was approximately a half hour ago. Mr. Doe stated he had started drinking at approximately 2100 hours, only 2 hours prior to my arrival. I asked Mr. Doe if he had taken any drugs that I should know about aside from the alcohol and he stated he did not.

At that point Mr. Doe started to go in and out of consciousness. Due to displaying signs outlined on our "Signs of Alcohol and Other Drug Overdose Emergencies" card (Yellow Card), I requested that medical be dispatched to my location and that CSO Hughes route them in from Botsford Drive. I also requested that the On-Call Resident Director (RD) be notified and dispatched, as well as the Manager On-Call notified. I then attempted to keep Mr. Doe stable and awake while we waited for medical by talking to him.

At approximately (TIME), AMR (Unit 341, Mark Blake), Portland Police (Officer Cox), and Portland Fire (whose names were not gathered at the time) arrived on scene. Due to Mr. Doe's condition AMR transported him to OHSU and he was given a "Return to Reed" card for when he was ready to return to campus. They then cleared at approximately (TIME). RD (NAME) also arrived around this time and I updated them on what was going on. Prior to Mr. Doe leaving the RD asked if he wished for us to contact his parents, and Mr. Doe responded in a slurred "no".

After everyone had cleared I notified dispatch that the restroom would need cleaned and asked that Building Services be contacted. I then cleared the scene at approximately (TIME).

A copy of this narrative has been emailed to the On-Call Community Safety Management team.

END REPORT CSO (NAME)
